DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 23 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being unpatentable by Becavin et al (US 3,790,942).

Regarding claim 23, Becavin discloses a radio beacon comprising a radiation element arranged to produce a lobed cardioid radiation pattern. See col.4, lines 44-56.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1-22 are allowed.
4. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

Regarding claim 1, Becavin does not disclose the radiating member being substantially tubular and defining a cavity therein', an impedance matching device electrically connected to the radiating member, the impedance matching device disposed to match an impedance of said radiating member with at least one impedance selected from the group consisting of an impedance of a signal source and an impedance of a load; and a conductor operatively connecting the radiating member to the impedance matching device', the impedance matching device, the conductor and at least a portion of the radiating member are integrally formed from a single conductive sheet in combination with all limitations recited in independent claims 1 and 17, claims 2-9 and 18-22 are allowed since these claims are dependent on claims 1 and 17.

Regarding claim 10, Becavin does not disclose the radiating member being substantially tubular and defining a cavity therein; a non-conductive slot extending from a first portion of the radiating member to a second portion of said radiating member and an impedance matching device electrically connect to the radiating member, the impedance matching device disposed to match an impedance of said radiating member with at least one impedance selected from the group consisting of an impedance of a signal source and an impedance of a load; an absolute value of a field impedance associated with the antenna is substantially less than 50 ohms in combination with all limitations recited in independent claim 10, claims 11-16 are allowed since these claims are depending on claim 10.

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Takei et al (US 5,977,924) and Mckinzie II et al. (US 20003/0011522) are cited to show a slot array antenna.
